Monday 22 Feb 2.00pm : High Street-related projects as a means of attracting and retaining members Led by Linda Foreman, Kingston U3A and looking at the impact of the first lockdown of 2020, and how Kingston u3a used it to keep members engaged and active. <https://forms.gle/QvjALi2zN6KZpM4c9>

Tuesday 23 Feb 10.30 am Change, planning and future visions: Join Michaela Moody and Robert Sprigge to discuss examples of change in local areas and how the involvement of individuals and groups has influenced its outcomes. You may also have current plans under discussion, and future plans that are evolving. These are all valuable topics for a local project and u3a groups might find their investigations contribute further to their local community's development. <https://forms.gle/ubS4zrTpxEZLvp2z7>

Thursday 25 Feb 10.30 am Make a walking trail Ann Higgins of King's Lynn U3A will give examples from 'Discover Downham' and talk about getting started and planning a trail. Every place has a unique tale to tell - where will you start, both on the ground, and in terms of planning a group. The session will also explore ways of distributing your finished product, be it in print or electronically. <https://forms.gle/bnT4ba4iXsQY4Fyv9>

Monday 1 Mar 10.00 am Ann Keating. Change, planning and future visions: Ann Keating, Trustee for Scotland, will look at the whole issue of planning and how communities are effected, the scales at which changes can occur, and the effects that ripple out from seemingly small actions. You may consider your own u3a project a small action, but it may also form part of a positive change for your local community. <https://forms.gle/azJfZeoAtsfo1ex9>

Tuesday 2 Mar 1.30 pm The living history of the High Street: Jo will talk about the purpose and methods involved when you make a decision to gather people's recollections and reminiscences. The interviews of today are valuable contributions to the understanding of the past and by planning ahead they can be made available into the future. <https://forms.gle/G4pyfTYRms6HuXF48>
